Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Claims 1-14 are presented for examination.

Applicants' information disclosure statement filed February 27, 2002 has been received and entered.

Priority

Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claims 1-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter and are not being examined on the merits.

The phrase "use of" in claims 1-13 is not an acceptable claim language term used in the U.S. Patent & Trademarks Office. Applicants may wish to amend claims 1-13 to recited a "method of use".

Claims 1-13 are not allowed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 1614

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claim 14 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Windholz et al. (The Merck Index, Tenth Edition, (1983) pgs 723 and 724, abstract no. 4866) in view of Sauvaire et al. (Diabetes, (1998 Feb) 47 (2) pgs 206-210).

Windholz et al. teach insulin as a well-known anti-diabetic compound.

The instant invention differs from the cited reference in that the cited reference does not teach the addition of a second compound, a mono-hydroxylated amino acids. However, the secondary reference, Sauvaire et al., teaches a mono-hydroxylated amino acid, 4-hydroxyisoleucine, is well-known compound with antidiabetic activity to treat diabetes (NIDDM) (see the entire abstract).

Clearly, one skilled in the art would have assumed the combination of two individual anti-diabetic compounds into a single composition would give an additive effect in the absence of evidence to the contrary.

Claim 14 is not allowed.

The remaining reference listed on the enclosed PTO-892 is cited to show the state of the art.
